

CONCORD COLLEGE
Athens, West Virginia

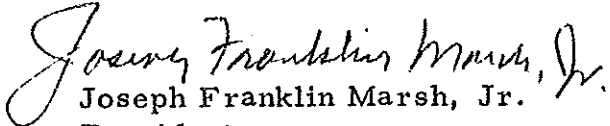

CITATION

CHARLES LEE HARMAN
Doctor of Humanities
May 14, 1972

CHARLES LEE HARMAN, educator and clergyman, you have answered the highest callings of your fellow-men, teaching and the ministry. Born in Missouri, a graduate of Lynchburg College, with advanced degrees in science from Georgia Tech and in theology from Southern Baptist Seminary, you first were a research chemist and mathematics teacher before becoming an ordained minister. For more than a quarter century you have rendered distinguished service as the President of our neighbor institution in Virginia, Bluefield College. Active in many worthy community affairs, the list of your associations and your accomplishments is, in the traditional phrase, "too numerous to mention" within the time limits of this ceremony. For your outstanding service to youth, for your many contributions to this area, and further to strengthen the bond of friendship between our two institutions, Concord is happy on this occasion and on the eve of your retirement as a college president to honor you by conferring upon you her well-deserved degree of Doctor of Humanities.

In testimony of this degree I hand you this diploma and cause you to be invested with this hood.

Given under the Seal of Concord College and conferred from the academic halls in Athens, West Virginia, on this fourteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventy-two, and of the College the one hundred and first.

Joseph Franklin Marsh, Jr.
President
